COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Considerable interest is being expressed in enacting a dog control ordinance of some type. There appears to be many more dogs roaming the streets this year than in the past.

An ordinance for this purpose would require someone to administer it on a full time basis, at least in the beginning.

Bid requests have been sent to Ford and International dealers for a new highway department truck. Specifications for a police car are being prepared.

Engineers from the Bureau of Federal Roads are to be in town today (Thursday) to survey the surface drain across Main Street in front of Brooks Bros. Hardware. We have not yet found out if we will receive assistance through the Flood Disaster fund provided by the government.

The Town Office will be closed on Monday, May 25, in observance of Memorial Day. There will not be a Selectmen's meeting that night. This would be a regular meeting, therefore I expect the Selectmen will set another date during that week.

The group approved the nomination by Supt. Ralph K. Ryder of Mrs. Joan H. Parker to teach grade 2 at the Woodstock Elementary School for the 1970-71 school year. Mrs. Parker is a 1940 graduate of Presque Isle High School and has a B. S. degree from the Northern Conservatory of Music in 1966, with a major in music and a minor in literature. She has 21 credit hours toward a master's degree in elementary education at Gorham State College. Mrs. Parker has eleven years of teaching experience at the elementary level. She is married and has three children.

Reporting for the curriculum committee, Mrs. Joan Wiese stated that a meeting had been held with the teachers of kindergarten through grade three and that a meeting of grades four to six instructors has been scheduled. Also a meeting of her committee with the superintendent had been scheduled.

Dale Thurston of Bethel reported that he had made a personal survey that revealed an average hourly wage rate in local industries of $1.93. The board decided that all industries in the district should be polled in regard to their hourly wage rates and fringe benefits for their 52-week employees so that a comparison could be made with S. A. D. 44 rates and programs.

Winfield Partridge, of Goodwin's Inc., and Michael O'Donnell, attorney, were present and discussed the district's current insurance program as it pertains to members of the board.

Following an executive session the board voted to hire Robert Gerardi of Vineland, N. J., as superintendent of schools in S. A. D. 44 for a two year period starting July 1.

SEMINAR ON EMERGENCY CARE OF ACCIDENT VICTIMS SET FOR MAY 14-15 AT RUMFORD

Emergency medical care before an accident victim reaches the hospital may spell the difference between life and death; and what a community has done, or failed to do before the emergency, makes the difference. Representatives of local and state law enforcement, ambulance services, fire department, hospital personnel and other key citizens, will participate in a two-day "Casualty Handling and Extrication Course" to be held at the nurses residence of the Rumford Community Hospital on May 14 and 15, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. The Maine Highway Safety Coordinator will conduct the seminar, with the assistance of four trained instructors from the Maine State Police, State Civil Defense, and the Department of Health and Welfare.

Plans for this emergency care seminar were initiated by Chief Albin Gestat of the Rumford Police Department, assisted by E. E. Loulier, hospital administrator, and it is compulsory training for the entire police force. Others in the community with potential safety roles have also been invited to participate, and should notify Chief Gestat by May 12 if they plan to attend.

Participants will be taught basic first aid, and will receive demonstrations on the proper handling of patients, artificial respiration, use of splints and proper methods, procedures for burns and shock, etc. Most of the instruction will be centered around two automobiles set up on the lawn of the nurses residence. Actual accident conditions will be simulated with "mock" casualties.

Clean up day in South Woodstock

Our boys are on the job again. It's clean up day in this vicinity. The task of cleaning up bottles, cans etc., dropped by careless persons fell to the following: Curtis Hill Road, Vernon Poland, Richard Wing and Ricky Wing. Two girls also helped, Andrea and Kelly Wing.

Koskela road and Harbor road sides were cared for by Takito and Wally Koskela.

Perkins Valley and South Woodstock area were attended to by Walter Applebee II, Roy Cox, Leon Poland Jr., Gordon Dillingham, Walter Applebee III and Lloyd Poland.

Now let us be mindful of pollution and keep our roadways free of debris from now on. These boys and girls have worked hard today, so let's do our bit by keeping this unightly litter off our highways. Take yours home and take it to the dumps where it belongs. Thanks for your help and many thanks for these civic minded citizens for cleaning up our roadways in out area.

Thomas Dinnest returned Saturday night from his trip to France and other points of interest with a group from Telstar High School.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres. — With the change of time to an hour earlier, in the morning when the sun is most ready to rise, often there are lazy clouds drifting across the skies. Morning music, what can be sweeter than a bird's happy song as he sits from branch to branch, singing all day long.

On a day like this Ruth and I took an old road for our first hike since the snow left.

The sun had burned away the April rains in some places, but in others like the old wood road it was soggy and in spots frozen. The latter gave promise of better travel. Not so though for these places often give way beneath then we really knew there was mud. We didn't mind was a drowsy, almost June feel to the air.

The little warblers and other birds twittered away around us. The sky was a denim blue and the sun shone down gold and hot. A day to sit perhaps but not for us.

We had chosen the Young Hill road and before we had gone far from where we had left the car we saw a partridge which casually strolled across the road to the woods.

Seconds later two deer, a symbol of the American wood, appeared a short distance up ahead. We stopped to look and so did they. I think they were curious and intended to inspect the intrusion on their solitude. Unafraid they came nearer then crossed to a field where moments later with and Wednesday. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Davis went to Gorham, N. H., with Vernon Swan to a Pomona meeting held at Pine Mountain Grange.

The Woodstock road crew was patching the many bad holes on the Curtis Hill Road the past week. I guess every one on the hill will be glad as the road was going to pieces fast. We hope to have another coat of tar to keep it this year in better condition.

Franklin Grange voted to try another auction June 27th. We wonder if any one has something for us that they are casting out this Spring. It's housecleaning time and we would be grateful for any contributions. Just contact Mark Mills, Carl Brooks, Ellis Davis, Harris Batha way, Guy Emery or any Grange member and they will pick it up. Thanks Goldie Mason, Esther Davis, Eleanor Koskela, Sheryl Wilbur and Maria Clements met at the home of Olive Davis to make plans for the reception of Nancy Koskela and Earle Mason which is coming up Sunday afternoon, May 17. The Willing Workers are catering the event.

I'd like to state that at our Church Clean Up evening that Sheryl M. Wilbur was present. Her name was left out by mistake of this writer. Sheryl was there all right and worked hard with the rest of us. She is a dear and we enjoy her company.

white flag raised over a wall so gracefully they bounded, an unforgettable picture.

Turning to look down the valley, we could see the river winding on its way. Across this was the old cliff under which I played as a child. It looked jagged and gray-white as the sun hit it.

After leaving the main road, everywhere there were stone walls. From time to time we paused at the old cellars and tried to recall whose home used to stand there.

One little pool of water in a lonely spot all by itself was perhaps a place of refreshment for our friends, the deer.

We rested on a rock and shared an orange.

In the distance the grays and blues of the mountains climbed up and on until the highest thrust its head into the very dome of the sky, while the pines so tall silhouetted against the blue.

Looking ahead the road was very uninviting so we stopped at one more old dwelling then turned homeward. Here the remains of an old center chimney with cellar around attracted our attention. From deeper down, standing now in a pool, a birch and a maple reared in proud dignity high above the walls.

Algae bushes, lilacs and shrubbery stood near, otherwise just a feeling of abandonment and loneliness.

Near here we visited the old Young cemetery; cleared but surrounded by timber.

Following now the road between the walls we decided to cross to take the road by which we came. Better? No. But we knew its pits.

Back to the car we looked a bit muddy but we had already decided we'd try again at a dryer time and follow the road to its end. Then again we can see the distant dark smudge of the pines resting softly against the mountains.

Holly Hayes is at the Stephens Hospital for a few days.

Walter Curtis was able to return to his work in Jay on Thursday.

Mrs. Jean Morris, Bethel, and Mrs. Mary Billings, Bryant Pond, called

Mrs. Collette Morgan one evening

this week. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Montie Millett, Pittsfield, N. H.

Several families attended the Spring Concert at Telstar, Friday. Mrs. Norman Millett and children visited Mrs. Floris Poland in Bethel, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Cox and family, North Conway, visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morgan one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan visited Mr. and Mrs. Montie Millett at their home in Tabbs District, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Katherine Morey spent this week with her daughter, Katherine Hakala.

Joan Morgan, Jean Millett and Katherine Hakala attended P. T. A. at Locke Mills on Tuesday.

Callers this week at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Millett's were Barbara Wilson, Jina Martin, Locke Mills; Dale Jeffery and Mrs. Dolly Coffin, West Paris; Ann Holt and Nancy Hutton, Town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis were in Brunswick and Freeport on Sunday visiting a brother and their daughter.

The old shack which stood on two legs on the pond's edge marring a beautiful a view for two years at ways reminded me of the story of the man with unpressed trousers; knees always looked bent. One day as he stood on the station platform when the train pulled out someone called "If you're going to jump, why don't you?"

I had wished the shack would disappear. Now it has disappeared thanks to Norman Millett and the Greenwood Fire Department.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

GUIDANCE NEWS

Linda Hathaway has been accepted at Gorham State College in their music program.
Maria Victoria Erazo, a post graduate at Telstar, has been accepted at Plus-Gray School of Business, Portland, for the fall term.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES

What is going to a foreign country really like? Several Telstar students who recently returned from France and England had a chance to answer this:
England: "On the surface, London is a huge dirty metropolis and I couldn't live there. I usually don't like the city, anyway, but I am glad I had the chance to go."
"In the stores, it seemed that you could get very high quality merchandise at a low price. There wasn't any junk."
"I think the food was generally poor."
"Many of the people didn't notice one another, just as if they weren't real people, only gadgets, getting their tasks done. I thought they seemed generally unfriendly. It must have been because I was not one of them, only an outsider."
"As we went down the freeway I noticed that all the houses were just alike."
"There were houses with lawns right in the middle of the city."
"A man asked us for money, and after he found that we were American, he couldn't understand why we didn't have any."
"England was great."
France: "They have the biggest loaves of bread I have ever seen!"
"The food was good!"
"It wasn't really difficult to adjust to the different kinds of money. It came naturally."

"The airplane ride was really fun."
"The people were really friendly and anxious to talk to us."
"I would just as soon live there."
"The countryside was really beautiful."

THE PARIS ADVENTURE
The Paris Adventure is over and we are all back.
I was extremely pleased with the general behavior of the students and also by the agency UTRAV, 18 Brattle Street, Cambridge, Mass., helped me plan the whole trip. Everything was very well organized by the agency in Paris which works with UTRAV. The hotel was clean and adequate, the food in the restaurants indicated by the agency was good, and in general, the whole group was quite happy.

The first afternoon we visited Paris by bus with an excellent English-speaking guide explaining many historic events related to the monuments. The 20th we had a full day's excursion to Chartres with its beautiful Gothic cathedral. On the way back we stopped in Versailles for lunch and visited the Palace of Versailles. On our way back to Paris, passing by Malmison, we decided to visit that also. Malmison is a charming mansion where Napoleon and Josephine lived the happiest part of their stormy life. Everybody was interested in the beautiful furniture, all of which was empire style. The next day, still by bus and always with our guide, we visited another part of the historical part of Paris.

The 22nd we continued the visit of Paris by Metro. I taught the students how to use the metro, in order that they would not get lost if they were separated by the crowd. This was successful. I lost nobody. In the evening, we attended the Ballet of the Opera. This was a splendid show with three ballets danced by the best dancers and ballerinas of France. The orchestra was also marvelous.

Next morning we visited the Louvre Museum and the impressionists in the Jeu de Paume. In the afternoon we went to the Invalides and saw Napoleon's Tomb. We walked to the Eiffel Tower and through the pretty gardens around it. The next day, which was the 24th, we visited the French television station with its very modern equipment. After that visit, the students went to lunch and visited the shops. We met for dinner and after dinner we took a trip on the Bateau Mouche on the Seine River by night with all the illuminations of the buildings. It was very, very pretty. Saturday we visited the colorful Flea Market, located there and browsed among the thousand little shops. It was fun and we came back with an unexpected guitar.

After meeting at the hotel at 9:30, we went to a party given in the honor of the American guests. There the students met some young French people. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the recreation very much. On Sunday the 25th we had a full day of excursion to Reims, where we visited the cathedral and even attended a religious service helped by the Archbishop. After this we visited a champagne cellar and we had lunch in an excellent restaurant.

After lunch we went to a nearby town called Epervay, where we visited a second cellar, extremely modern, where we got a ride on a little train which carried us through numerous galleries. We were told the different procedures used to arrive to a perfect champagne. The offering of a small glass of their Mercier champagne ended the visit in a very joyful way.

The next day we went to Orleans, a city south of Paris on the Loire River. There we visited two beautiful chateaux, Chambord and Blois. On Tuesday, I had made arrangements through the Cultural Services for a visit to the French Lycée (High School) of English a few miles from Paris. We took the train and stayed there the whole day. The youngsters enjoyed it very much.

TELSTAR HURT BY EARLY GRAND SLAM

Leavitt of Turner came through to 97 Mountain Valley Conference baseball triumph over Telstar at Bethel Tuesday, a contest in which Robert Thompson's grand slam for the visitors was the decisive blow. Thompson unloaded over the fence with bases full in the five-run second inning that put the Turner club struck to the top by six. Dana Melville later homered for the losers, who play at Winthrop in their next one.

Duane Scribner of Telstar struck out 11 and York, who relieved him for the final out, one more but Scribner walked nine in losing out to Dan Poland, who fanned nine. Scribner allowed only five hits, Poland, eight.
